

Bushtit © Liam Hutcheson

Oregon & Georgia Now Live!

We're thrilled to announce that American Birding Guides has launched in two spectacular new states. From the Pacific Northwest to the Southeast coast, Oregon and Georgia offer incredible diversity—lush forests, dramatic coastlines, rich wetlands, and remote mountain habitats. Our local guides are ready to help you explore each region at its best.

Summer is the perfect time to bird Oregon. Tufted Puffins crowd coastal rocks, Hermit and MacGillivray's Warblers return to the Cascades, and Sage-Grouse boom on wide-open plateaus. Long days, cool mornings, and peak breeding activity make June through August one of the most rewarding times to explore Oregon's wild, varied landscapes.

Book Your OR Guide!

Summer is a great time to bird Georgia. Red-cockaded Woodpeckers forage in longleaf pines, warblers sing across the southern Appalachians, and Painted Buntings brighten the coastal thickets. From the mountains to the saltmarsh, this season offers one of the most rewarding windows into Georgia's rich birdlife.

Book Your GA Guide!

Where to Bird Now - Summer Sweet Spots

While much of the country swelters, the cool mornings and long days in the Pacific Northwest and northern prairies offer ideal birding conditions—lush habitats, breeding birds in full voice, and striking diversity across forest, wetland, and open country. From Sooty Grouse and Hermit Warblers in coastal forests to Spruce Grouse and Connecticut Warblers in the northern woods, this is the season to be out.

Red-breasted Sapsucker © Liam Hutcheson

Book Your WA Guide!

Connecticut Warbler © Matt Misewicz

Book Your MN Guide!

Monsoon Magic in the Southwest!

Mid-July through August brings a dramatic shift across Arizona, New Mexico, and West Texas. Monsoon rains transform the landscape—greening the deserts, swelling the washes, and filling the air with insects and song. It's a short, electric season marked by bright mornings, thunderous afternoons, and some of the most exciting birding in North America. If you've ever wanted to experience the Southwest at its most alive, this is the time to go.

Five-striped Sparrow © Michael Stremciuc

Book Your AZ Guide!

Varied Bunting © Michael Stremciuc

Book Your NM Guide!

Meet Our Newest Guides

Our outstanding team of professional birding guides is growing! We're honored to be working with these incredible birders to bring you the best possible birding experiences.

Elliott Ress

Oregon Birding Guides

Elliott's passion for birds took flight in 2021 after an endearing encounter with White-winged Crossbills right outside his home in northwest Montana. Since then, he has fully immersed himself in ornithology, turning a moment of curiosity into a lifelong pursuit. He graduated with Distinction in Research from Cornell University, where he studied the flight calls of Magnolia Warblers. Now pursuing a graduate degree...

Read More

Patrick Maurice

Georgia Birding Guides

Patrick Maurice was born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia, and graduated from the University of Georgia with a Wildlife Science degree in 2021. Patrick credits his experiences as a lifelong birder to his mother, who is also a birder and ignited his passion for birds and the outdoors. His earliest birding memory was seeing Georgia's first state record Yellow-billed Loon when he was 5 years old...

Read More

Let's Go Birding!

We have 12 teams of expert guides ready to get out birding with you! Five other world-class birding destinations are currently in development: Maine, West Virginia, Alaska, Ohio, and Hawaii. We'll keep you updated on their progress!

Reach Out!

Don't hesitate to reach out if you want additional information or if you'd like to chat about options for an upcoming or future trip. We are here to help!

571-215-7948

americanbirdingguides@gmail.com

We're looking forward to hearing from you soon!

Felipe Guerrero
American Birding Guides

Phone: 571-215-7948 | Email: americanbirdingguides@gmail.com
Copyright © American Birding Guides LLC

American Birding Guides | 239 N 2nd Ave | Patagonia, AZ 85624 US

Unsubscribe | Update Profile | Constant Contact Data Notice

Try email marketing for free today!